Julius Neufield, aged 22, of 1535 Lincoln avenue. Chicago, soda boy at the Masonic Temple Pharmacy, Randolph and State street, who for the past month has worked on the steel excursion steamship, the Pere Marquette, the ice cream maker, drowned in the harbor at Waukegan, Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Neufield upon landing from the steamship secured a bathing suit at the Larsen boat livery and for half an hour amused himself by swimming in the waters south of the south pier. This did not seem to suit the Chicago boy, so he rented a row boat at the livery, rowing out to the harbor, where he would dive to the pleasure of the three thousand or more Chicago excursionists who sat on the decks of the Pere Marquette. Neufield made one successful dive and returned to the rowboat. Standing up on the rail of the little boat Neufield successfully took the second dive but never again did be return to the boat. When diving the last time he kicked the boat back, just far enough to place it out of his reach. Insomnia is the not uncommon fate of the brainworker who, after years of continuous mental strain, retires from active life. The reason is that mental activity demands a large supply of blood for the brain, and the blood vessels gradually accommodate themselves to this large supply. But, when the hard work is over, the brain does not always realize that it needs less nourishment, and hence the condition of excessive mental activity which is what insomnia is.

DISASTEROUS FIRE AT VOLO

Caused By Spontaneous Combustion, smoldered for Days.

After a battle with a stubborn fire lasting fourteen hours in a barn of Frank Paddock, one-half mile east of Volo, Friday, 100 tons of hay were saved from destruction while the balance of the contents, consisting of thirty tons of hay, a quantity of oats and farming implements went up in smoke' causing a loss of several thousand dollars. There was no insurance.

Had it not been for the heroic work of over a hundred farmers who at once rallied to the assistance of Mr. Paddock also the fire departments of Grayslake and Highland Park, it is quite probable that the entire place would have been wiped out. Spontaneous combustion is assigned | Crew of Northwestern Freight Train Gives as the cause of the blaze and such occurrences are almost unknown in fire department circless.

For several days an odor of burning wood and hay was in evidence about Mr. Paddock's residence and store, employes were unableto trace the smoke to its source for several hours, but as it because denser the stable was visited and it was at once aparent that the fire was smoldering beneath the hay.

A heavy scantling was thrust beneath a portion of the building and a space pried open. Volumes of smoke at once belched out and it was evident at once that unless assistance was procured a heavy loss would result. The Grayslake and Highland Park department responded with alarcity and telephone messages to farmers in the surrounding territory brought them in to the number of a hundred or more as fast as their horses could carry them.

Water was scarce but the engine crews did valiant work. The large force at hand saved about one hundred tons of hay, while thirty tons were so badly and the laundry mark of the dead man Mr. damaged by smoke, fire and water as to Ingalls identified his brother and later at be a total loss.

He recoved sufficiently to spell out his name. Three dollars and some small change was found in his pocket and a slip of paper with the address: Peter Smith, 1731 Wabash Ave, Flat C. Chicago, Ill. MISSING MAN IS FOUND

Frank Ingalls of Waukegan, Identified as Dead Man Found at Ravinia

JULY 22 BODY WAS FOUND

First Clue When Member Reads Description of Missing Man

The mystery of the disappearance of Frank Ingalls of Woukegan was solved Saturday. It was his body that was found mangled on the tracks of the Northwestern on the morning of July 22. An inquest was held on it and it was burried as that of an unknown, no one having come forward to identify it. How Ingalls came to be at Ravinia and along the track is still a mystery as is the fact that in his pocket was a ticket indicating that he was on his way home from Grand Rapids, Mich.

The identification was made beyond a doubt by Edward Ingalis and Coroners Taylor and Conrad.

Mr. Ingalls and Mr. Conrad left for Libertyville on a noon street car and at 2 had gathered the tangled skeins of the week long mystery.

It is a queer trick of fate that had Deputy Coroner Conrad performed the inquest he would have recognized Ingalls at a glance. He was all ready to go to the morgue when Coroner Taylor decided to go himself, and as he did not know Ingalls he did not identify him. Brakeman Rankin remembered the description of the body perfectly. Hit by a train, both legs were broken and the head was mutilated.

SYNOPSIS.

The crowning desire in the life of old Baumgartner, a Pennsylvania German, is to obtain possession of the beautiful meadow which lies just between Baum-gartner's property and the railroad stameadow which lies just between Baumgartner's property and the railroad station. The property in question was inherited by Sarah Pressel, very pretty and athletic young girl, and belonged solely to her. At length Baumgartner came to realize that his only hope of obtaining the property would be through the marriage of his son Sephenijah to Sarah Pressel. In a mock auction "Seffy," as Sephenijah P. Baumgartner, Jr., is popularly known, is rafiled off by his father to Sarah for $1. He appears utterly incapacitated to win in any contest of love or life. Sarah Pressel is quite the opposite of Seffy. She is all life and animation. Her one fault is a very high temper. Baumgartner gives Seffy some lessons in courtship. Baumgartner has caused himself to be appointed guardian of Sally. Seffy is unable to resist the fascinating witcheries of Sally and he kisses her. She promises him, however, that she will never kiss any man but him. Sam Fritz, a drunken grocery clerk—old Baumgartner calls him a "molasses tapper"—calls on Sally and interrupts the kissing. They go into the parlor and begin a "sitting up" contest. In accordance with the customs of the place and the time, the one who is defeated in such a contest is unworthy the hand of the girl. Seffy goes to sleep and be-and the time, the one who is defeated in such a contest is unworthy the hand of the girl. Seffy goes to sleep and begins snoring. Sally leaves the room in a huff, saying: Good night, gentlemen." Seffy tells his father of his humiliation; of how Sam Fritz had pinned to his bosom while he slept a pasteboard tombstone bearing the inscription: "Sephenijah P. Baumgartner, Jr., went to his rest, June 10, 1871, in the twentieth year of his age. Gone but not forgot. Read backwards." CHAPTER VI.-Continued. There was no restraint to his father's laughter now. After it had subsided he asked: "What did you do wiss the tombstone?"

"That's bad, Seffy. He'll put it up at the store an' you ken nefer go there no more."

Seffy's look minder to his father that it would have been better not to say that. But Old Baumgartner had tremendous aplomb.

"Nefer mind-nefer mind. Mebby he won't sink of that"-though he knew the store clerk would be certain to think of it.

Upon a sudden thought the old man leaped up.

"And where was Sam? Say! When you woke up?" "I don't know."-

"But—he wasn't there—at Sally's?" "No," said Seffy hopelessly.

His father clutched his shoulder and set him on his feet.

"Well-you dam' little idjlot-aha-ha-ha-don't you see that you did set him out-say! Why, you're a winner, Seffy! I'm proud of you!"

Seffy started and looked a little less inert. His father laughed hugely. "I knowed you'd do it! Aha-ha-ha! Nobody ken beat a Baumgartner courting a gal! What's sleeping-if you stayed! Huh! You stayed tell daylight! Sef-I'm laughing! Why, I used to sleep when I set up wiss you' mammy efery time another feller was there. I done it a-purpose! And she'd wake me up when the other feller was gone and it came time for me to go. Why-say-I stayed and slept all night-tell broad daylight and go home wiss the cows in the morning-many a time! Yassir! Chust like you, Sef! Sef, you're all right. Goshens, but you had a narrow excape, though! Chust suppose you'd 'a' woke up and forgot what you was up to-you do that, sometimes, Sef, when you're dreamyand gone home before you remembered that you was out-setting him! He'd 'a' had you dead, Seffy, dead and buried in the family lot. But you got him, Seffy, ol' boy-and Sally, too, begoshens! Shall we get at the fence to-day?" Seffy did not respond. And his father knew better than most of us where suggestion should stop.

"All right. We bose busy to-day. Mebby we better let it be tell to mor-

Of course Old Baumgartner was well aware that his logic would not bear the least scrutiny. And he regarded Seffy anxiously as he raced through it. But dull happy Seffy saw no flaws in it. He agreed with his father that he had out sat Sam. And, if it had not been too plainly accidental, he would have adopted the fancy that he had had a heroic purpose in it-so convincing was his father's logic to his light on which Sally's pretty little

His father was proud of this last. As they drew apart he called back: "If she don't like snoring, Sef, wear a clothes-pin when you set up wiss her-one of them wiss a spring-not? Aha-ha-ha!" And then: "You all the conquering hero comes! Go right up a little. Well, so good night." back-mebby to-night-you entitled to do it."

"Begoshens, I will!" said Seffy in his father's own slogan.

Seffy would have pressed his suit even without this, I think-because of those moments in the dark parlor. One does not soon forget that sort of

"Now," advised his father, "you know well enough what kind of a temper goes wiss her hair-I use to hat hair enough onct-and it was red! All right when it's on your side. But hell when it's ag'in you. Them red-heads always regrets-I do and she does! Say-Sef-Seffy, don't you let her regret in vain-ketch her while she's at

So, Seffy went up the hill againnot that night-which was a mistake -he could not quite bring himself to that—but the next. And he had washed the grease out of his hair and left the hat at home as well as the butterfly tie and the boots and, if I do say it, he was a very handsome fellow, worth at least a dozen of his rivar.

But Sally, watching for this very thing, saw him coming and hardened her heart, as Pharaoh did in the face of proffered felicity, and, by a good deal of forcible instruction, she succeeded in getting the little maid to say that she was not at home. The maid's untutored face showed Seffy that she was not telling the truth, however, and she was not sorry for it. She would never have treated Seffy

Seffy shifted his hat from one hand to the other and then said:

"Tell her-tell her-when she comes home—that I'm sorry—" He did not exactly know what he was sorry for, and so said good night and went. "He knowed you was at home!" reproached the little maid. "He was sorry for you."

"What did he say?" demanded Sally savagely.

"To tell you that he was sorrywhen you got home."

"When I got home? Then I better stay away, I expect. That's what he meant, did he? Well, I'll show him!" But the maid understood Seffy's rustic chivalry and she did not laugh with her mistress.

Yet, Sally went back to her window and again watched, hoping Seffy would look back. She was not quite sure what she would do. Perhaps she would get angry-perhaps-But if he would only look! He did not, and Sally understood that he had accepted his conge as she had given it. And quite as the old man had said, she did regret, now, and she had regretted that other night. But there was more penance than he had said of thought. Yetthere was the Pressel temper! And It did not await the subsidence of the sorrow, but rose at once. What business had he tamely to accept the situation? I am satisfied that there is some connection between red hair and temper. And I am, further, satisfied that there is even more between the associated ideas of red hair, temper and regret. But my difficulty is to determine just where each stands. Logically, the regret ought to come last. But, to Sally, and in this case, it came in the middle. For, she began and she ended without it, but she distinctly remembered having had it. Therefore, it must have been in the middle.

"KENT AID HE SAY?" ACTUADED SALLY SAWGETY

And Sam administered Seffy's coup de grace! Perhaps it was accidental. But I think it must have been nothing less than spying and then devilish invention—it was so entirely apropos.

As Seffy descended the Hill of Dehouse stood, Sam ascended it, singing,

'Napoleon, with a thousand men, Marched up the hill and down again." From his own darkness. Selfy saw a golden shaft of light burst from light, and, in it, he saw Sam mount

He passed on, for he was a merciful old man, and Sally hurried away to the Polson spring. And Old Baumgartner laughed through his gnarled hands behind the cover of the next turn in the road, though even to him laughter was no more gay, as of yore.

Seffy was there, on his back, with his hands under his head, staring up at the moon. He looked pitifully alone. A great lump surged in Sally's throat, and if she had obeyed only her heart she would have flung her arms around him. But another of those qualities which go with red hair, pride, prevented this. She coughed a little and Seffy flew around.

FIFTY RUPEES EASILY MADE.

Tricky Indian Merchant Feared Inquisitive Stranger. An Indian merchant wished to dispose of an old elephant and took it to a fair. As soon as he had arrived he noticed a man who, without saying a word, began to walk round the animal, examining it attentively on all sides. The merchant became very anxious, for he feared the man had found out that his elephant was not worth much. He took him aside and whispered in his ear: "I see a customer coming. Do not say a word until I have sold the beast and I will give you 50 rupees." The man looked at the merchant and wonderingly complied with his request. It happened that the customer had more money than sense, so that he was easily taken in. When the bargain was completed and the elephant led away by its new owner, the merchant handed the 50 rupees to the sllent man, saying: "Now, I want you to tell me how you discovered the defect in his left leg. I thought I had concealed it so skilfully." "I have discovered nothing," replied the stranger. 'It is the first elephant I have ever seen, and I wanted to know which was the head and which was the tail."

WARNER CASE APPEALED

Vespasian Warner Objects to Inheritance Tax-Suit Goes Higher.

Clinton.—An appeal from the decision of the county judge in the appraiser's report on the inheritance tax in the $2,000,000 estate of the late near Mitchell, Ill., Merle Huber, 17 Dr. John Warner was taken; an appeal bond in the sum of $16,000 having been filed in the county court by Vespasian Warner, as executor of the estate, and C. M. Warner, a resident of DeWitt county. The case is appealed to the county court. The appeal is based on objections and exceptions to the report of Edward Denison, who was appointed appraiser of the estate. The inheritance tax involves a sum estimated to be over $15,700. The objections filed by Vespasian Warner as executor of his father's estate also were filed and cites numerous reasons for the alleged incompetency of the report. The objections stated that the deposition of one John McKinley, which would have been beneficial to the estate, had been eliminated from the report of the appraiser, and also that the evidence in the appraisement is vague and uncertain. The objectors say that at the time the appraisement was filed it was not known what share of the estate the widow and heirs were entitled to and also that it was not known what amount the costs and expenses of the administration of the vast estate would reach.

Fishers Allege Fraud.

Washington, D. C., July 20, 1908 .-If President Roosevelt sould be persuaded to depart from his rule of noninterference in state politics, he doubtless would have something to say to the voters of Illinois that would disclose the intentions of Governor Deneen in a new and sinister aspect. The president has his suspicions of Governor Densen's good faith as a public offelal, whose acts are not in accordance with his promises.

Deneen Was Sent For. The president had occasion to send for Deneen about a year and a half ago inquiry into the affairs of the Chicago knowledge or consent." & Alton railroad. Power With State, The Attorney General, Mr. Bone parte, after much research of the law, informed the president that there was no statute in the revised code of the United States under which federal authorities could proceed against the persons accused of this great crime, but he also informed the president that the law of the state of Illinois amply covered the offense and that if Governor Deneen desired to vindicate that law he could put every man responsible, directly for the great crime, in the penitentiary. That opinion by his attorney general constituted the reason why President Roosevelt sent for Deneen. It will be recalled that Deneen took occasion to spread the report far and wide that the president had sent for him. The newspapers of the country disclosed it as an affair of vital political significance. Deneen encouraged this view of the incident upon the assumption that it would be to his own political credit. Deneen Plumed Himself.

In other words Dencen seemed to regard it as a good thing for himself to have President Roosevelt request him to come to Washington. Dencen has never told about what occurred between himself and the president and the president has been silent because he did not want to add to the strife then existing in the Republican party of Illinois. During the conference between the president and Dencen at the White House, the president calmly, but forcibly, pressed to his visitor the facts of the Chicago & Alton case and urged Deneen, upon his return, to take steps without loss of time to vindicate the law. Deneen returned to Springfield. From that day to this he has made no public statement concerning what passed between them.

BATTLE FOR POWER IN A WARD CONTEST

Interest in Judiciary Primaries Tomorrow Centers in a Fight in the Twenty-second

CROWD VS. BUSSE

Fight Ly Governor's Friends to Curtail the Postmaster's Influence on the North Side

In preparing for the judicial primaries set for to-morrow, Republican county leaders say the only contest will be in the Twentysecond ward, but the indications are that the fight there will be a battle royal. It is not, however, a contest over the nominee to be placed on either ticket, the participants in the struggle being solely interested in securing control of the ward committeeship.

Representative Bernard F. Clettenberg, an ally of Postmaster Fred A. Busse is a candidate for the leadership held by John A. Linn, and opposed to him is Albert J. Olson, former alderman and state representative, whose public record has been condemned by the Municipal and Legislative Voters' League.

The chief interest in the fight is the fact that it has dragged Postmaster Busse into the fray. Reports are circulated also that certain members of the Deneen-West combination are fighting Busse through Olson, to prevent the postmaster from retaining control of the solid North Side.

Fight on Busse's Power The word has gone out that Clettenberg must be defeated because he is Busse's friend, and in order to clip the postmaster's wings in county politics. Mr. Busse has accepted the challenge and no matter how the fight results, it is likely to have a farreaching effect on the local situation, as tending to widen the breach between the Busse combination and Governor Deneen's wing.

Representative Clettenberg today mailed a circular to every Republican voter in the ward asking: "Do you want to be honestly represented? Frank Chaiser, A. J. Olson and Sam Erickson represent themselves. Bernard F. Clettenberg will represent you. A vote for Clettenberg means a vote for decent administration of party affairs."

Erickson is Clettenberg's colleague in the legislature, and Chaiser was cashier in Linn's office. Both are working for Olson under the direction of a Deneen lieutenant who, with Sheriff Pease, would like to see Busse's influence in North Side politics curtailed.

Chicagy Daily News, Friday, April PRIMARIES ARE ON TO-MORROW

Republicans Will Contest at Polls---Lahiff Back From South

Republican judiciary primaries are to be held tomorrow. In the 22nd ward, where the seat in the republican county committee relinquished by John A. Linn is to be filled, looms the only contest of consequence. In the 13th ward, where rival republican factions have fought with bloodshed and death recently, a truce has been declared and no trouble is looked for. In the 22nd ward the contest for committeeman lies between Representative B. F. Clettenberg and Samuel E. Erickson. Erickson is backed by A. J. Olson, formerly a representative and an alderman. Circulars have been distributed throughout the ward giving the endorsement of

Clettenberg by the Legislative

Voters' League report for 1904, and the condemnation of Olson by the Municipal Voters' League in 1900 and 1902. Postmaster Busse is behind Clettenberg, and with the election of his candidate will get control of the only ward in the north town which has not owed allegiance to him.

(Chronicle, Sunday, April 29, 1906) CLETTENBERG WINS IN PRIMARIES

Republican primary elections were held yesterday in the city and Cicero, but the only contest of importance was in the twentysecond ward, where Bernard F. Clettenberg won a bitter fight against Samuel E. Erickson and ex-Aldrman Albert J. Olson, capturing seventeen out of twenty-four delegates.

The contest was over the county committeeship to succeed John A. Linn, who within a week will begin serving a indeterminate sentence in the Joliet penitentiary. Although the struggle was nominally between Representative Clettenberg on one side and Representative Erickson and ex-Alderman Olson on the other, the real battle was between Postmaster Fred A. Busse and his political rivals in the Linn ward.

By his victory of yesterday Mr.

Busse establishes his supremacy as a party leader in the twentyfirst, twenty-second, twenty-third and twenty-fourth wards and will go into the convention tomorrow with seventy-seven delegates. Mr. Busse made a hard fight against great odds and his tri-umph doubtless will add much to his prestige as a leader in the republican county organization.

The Busse-Clettenberg combination carried five out of seven primary districts in the twentysecond ward and the postmaster is now the undisputed boss of the town of North Chicago.

Twenty-second Polls Heavy Vote

Of 11,939 votes cast in the city and Cicero nearly 2,500 were cast by the Twenty-second ward, or more votes than were polled in the ward primaries of May 6, 1904, when Deneen and Lowden. were battling for the republican gubernatortal nomination. Erickson and Olson evidently tried to overthrow Busse, Erickson running as a candidate for committeeman in the Swedish districts and Olson in the Irish districts. Erickson carried his own district, the sixth, and his combination carried the fifth or Pohlmann district; the rest went to Busse and his organization.

HOPKINS NEEDED AT WASHINGTON

His Support of the Waterways and Other Projects Is Vitally Necessary.

The Senator's Influence Is a Determin ing Factor in Securing Favorable Action on Illinois Projects.

Washington, D. C., July, 1908.

In the very near future, perhaps during the forthcoming session of congress, legislation of vital interest to Illinois will be given carnest consideration. Not the least important of this legislation will appertain to the waterway project, by which it is proposed to connect the Great Lakes with the Gulf of Mexico. Senator Hopkins is already on record concerning that project. His influence and his work as a member of the committee on commerce and his industry were largely responsible for the success already achieved in procuring appropriations to conduct surveys of the contemplated route. Representative Lorimer, who has been conducting the independent waterway campaign in Illinois and adjacent states, proposes at the forthcoming session of congress to introduce a bill appropriating not less than one million dollars to begin the work. That bill may or may not be favorably recommended by the house committee on rivers and harbors. Mr. Burton, chairman of the committee, is not favorable to the waterway scheme. He has fought it consistently and insistently from the beginning. He has thrown the weight of his influence as chairman of the committee against it every time it has been brought into congress. It is on this account that Senator Hopkins' membership on the committee on commerce is of the utmost value and importance to Illinois, because it places him in a position to secure an unprejudiced opinion on the methods of the waterway project. The Senator is an ardent advocate of the waterway. He believes it is a great thing for the state, for Chicago and, indeed, for the whole Mississippi Valley. With his advocacy and support, it has a chance to win; without him it is likely to perish, as have thousands of other projects which were lacking the support of virile and forceful men like Senator Hopkins. When Burton succeeded in the house commit-HOPKINS-ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGN tee several years ago in smothering the first appropriation for the waterway Senator Hopkins had it inserted into the bill of the committee on commerce and the senate indorsed the commit-Senator Hopkins' campaign thus far tee's work. It is not a violation of good faith to say that President Roosevelt is intensely interested in the senatorial campaign now under way in Illinois, and that he will be overjoyed when he hears the news that Senator Hopkins has been triumphantly renominated by fight all opposition to him will have the people. The President has learned to regard Hopkins as the most useful man in congress and he relies upon him with greater trust for the performance of duties that relate directly to the policies of his administration than upon any other man in either house of congress. How keenly the president is alive to the situation in Illinois and how much he desires that Senator Hopkins, shall be re-elected was illustrated by his remark to the Senator when he urged him to become chairman of the committee on resolutions of the republican national convention.

At the Wankegan Day celebration held on Monday Ex-Governor Richard Yates was the center of attraction and his speech to the will of the people, believing that, so was listened to by one of the largest crowds in the history of that city, and he was cheered as the next governor of Illinois.

Saturday, August S, the all important day to the numerous candidates for the various offices, is rapidly drawing near, and as it approaches, politics are almost at a white heat. So much has already been said both for and against the various candidates that little remains to be told. But we see no reason why the voters of the tenth congressional district should not give their support to our present Cong ressman, George Edmund Foss, to again represent this district in congress. He has been faithful to his constituents and served this district well, and has by his own ability risen to chairman of one of the most important committees of that body. In other words "he has been tried and not found wanting." Under the primary law any Republican, upon filing his petition signed by the requisite number of electors of his party, can present his name for United States Senator for the purpose of ascertaining the sentiment of the people throughout the state thereon. In response to requests from a great number of Republicans of our district and all over the state, he consented to so present his name. This vote, under the law, is advisory. TO THE REPUBLICANS OF The Eighth Senatorial District

I desire to announce that I shall be a candidate for the Lower House of Representatives of the General Assembly, from the Eighth Senatorial District, subject to the Republican Paimaries to be held August

In the 44th General Assembly, 1905, and the 45th General Assembly, 1907-in substantially four sessions-the 8th Senatorial District and McHenry county have had the honor and the influence of filling the Speakership of the Lower House. How fairly or how poorly I have filled that position I can only leave to the judgment of others, upon the record, and to the opinion of those who have served in the House.

That there is a very good opportunity for the 8th Senatorial District and Me-Henry county to fill the position of Speaker in the Lower House for a third successive term, and that it is the request of many of the present memi ers who are candidates for re-election, are the causes of my candidacy at the present time.

If one will stop to reflect upon what has happened in the last six months, the natural answer to the foregoing question will reflect a vista of promise that discloses Hopkins as one of the great forthcoming figures of our national life. He now enjoys the confidence of President Roosevelt to an xtent that is rivaled only by the intimate friendship of Senator Lodge of Massachusetts. William H. Taft, the republican candidate for president, regards him as one of the ablest and most accomplished members of congress, and moreover reposes in him a trust equal to that of President Roosevelt. To say that Senator Hopkins will be one of the foremost republican leaders during the next six years, and that his influence as a legislator and as a party man will be second to none in the nation, and that his value to his constituency will be vastly increased is in no sense an exaggeration. The election of Taft as president will instantly place Senator Hopkins in the front rank of his advisors. That he would hold the same relation to Taft as Lodge has held to President Roosevelt, that he would be recognized as the administration leader upon all measures and policies about ailments common in hot wether can be is the inevitable result of his present which the administration is concerned, traced to the stomach nine times out often. standing with the former sesretary of Keep the stomach in good order right now war. Taft himself is a worker. He is by keeping a bottle of Kodol handly in the one of the men in this world who does feel that you need it. That is the only member of the Roosevelt cabinet. He been exceeded and rarely, if ever, equaled, and at the present time he is enjoying the first rest he has had since he quit the bench at the solicitation of the late President McKinley to become civil head of the Philippines. His admiration for Hopkins is due entirely All to the fact that Hopkins is also a tireless worker. He has had occasion to learn by experience that whatever he intrusted to Hopkins was performed with zeal and always well. Alas, there are no scythes nowadays! The work is done with horses and reapers. The economical reform has swept our romance unmercifully In those days there were scythes, and there were men who knew how to swing them. It was a fine sight to see four or five well-built lads, led by the father, mowing down the meadowand the timothy was nearly as tall as their heads. But the swing of their scythes fell true, and their tread was even, and they were glad. Birds sung overhead, and when they came near a ground bird's nest, the mother told them of it, and they went round leaving it unharmed. But a bumblebee's nest! That was another thing! And they went round that also. But at night the boys did not forget, for bumblebees' honey is good, and they did not know in those days that the bum- Fire Insurance Agent for Several blebees were very essential in a clover a touch of Indian blood, who went down the field on a trot-cutting a good, honest swath all the way. Present Administration in Illinois Seeks to Evade Its Responsibilities.

DENEEN VERY EXTRAVAGANT

Average of Tax Rate Under Yates $100,000 a Year Less.

This Condition Prevailed Notwithstanding the Fact That Taxable Valuation of Property Is $1,200,000,000 More.

For plain unadorned mendacity, Governor Deneen's comparison of the tax rate that was levied during his administration with the tax rate of the previous Yates administration, is only squaled by his assertion that the dread that the average rate was only fortyful disclosures of mis-management, nine cents. brutality, and even murder in the several state institutions were caused by political jealousy. Deneen, in his campaign pamphlet, says that the average tax rate during his four years as Governor was fifty cents per $100 valuation. The statement would have stood unchallenged and forever redounded to his credit if he hadn't added that the tax rate during the Yates administration was fifty-four cents. The short and ngly word alone is equal to characterizing such a statement as this. Deneen mendaciously took the prevailing rate of the last year of Governor Yates term, fifty-four cents per one hundred dollars of equalized valuation as the more than Governor Yates ever ob standard of comparison.

Ignored Real Facts.

He deliberately ignored the three previous years of that administration. If he had even confined the comparison to the last year of his administration the fact to the scandals that were dis. Esquiline, the Quirinal and the Vimtion, he would not stand accused as he is of deliberately falsifying the state records for a political purpose, because he would have dealt in facts. But when he left the public to assume that the fifty-four-cent rate of 1904 was the average rate of the Yates' administration, and that by comparing with the average rate of the Deneen administration (50c) he disclosed a larger burden than Dencen had imposed upon the resources of the tax payers of the state, he was guilty of a sharp practice that even a shyster lawyer would hesitate to Yates' Rate Forty-nine Cents.

The fact is that the average rate of the Yates' administration was fortynine cents. The fifty-four-cent rate in 1904 was the direct result of certain extraordinary expenditures which were authorized by the legislature of the previous year. The first year of Yates' administration, the rate was fifty cents. In 1902 it fell to the unprecedented low rate of forty cents. In 1903 it increased to fifty-two cents, and in 1904 it was fifty-four cents. It will be seen

Dencen Rate Excessive.

Throughout the four years of Deneen's administration, the rate each year was fifty cents. It does not require a political economist to reach the conclusion that the Dencen rate for the last two years of his administration was excessive, because he contrived through the medium of his political machine in Cook county and elsewhere to increase the total value of ratables $1,250,000,000. Neither does it require an enlightened understanding to appreciate that through the maintenance of a fifty-cent rate, Dencen has been enabled to mulct the tax payers of Illinois to the tune of $6,125,000 per year tained from them for the support of the state government.

Where Has Money Gone?

When one considers this extraordinary increase of revenue and applies line, the Aventine, the Carlian, the one cannot help entertaining a feeling of doubt as to the integrity of the The People Will Have No Other Candi-Dencen administration. What did he do with the money? Clearly it was not spent for the maintenance of the state institutions, because the evidence shows for Deneen to explain if he can.

DENEEN'S AUTOMOBILE TOUR

Clinton Public-Governor Deneen and friends are taking trips over the fertile prairies of Illinois in automobiles. Ten to fifteen machines are constantly in his train. It may be he had such tours in his mind when he adhard. In these political tours, he has found the roads pretty good but he has any chances. They will vote almost solidly for Yates.

Six Thousand Refugees Crowd the Spared Towns and Suffer for Lack of Food.

Winnipeg, Man .- The list of fatalities in the forest fire, which, starting at four o'clock Saturday afternoon, laid waste an area of 40 square miles along the Crow's Nest Pass branch of the Canadian Pacific road and devoured the prosperous mining town of Fernie and half a dozen smaller places, is steadily increasing and is now placed at between 200 and 400.

Hosmer and Michel are still fighting the flames. The townspeople, after a battle of more than 30 hours, believed they had saved a remnant of their dwellings and lay down at their posts utterly exhausted. However, the flames swept down upon them again, impelled by a strong west wind.

Late Monday afternoon the inhabltants of Michel, which is 20 miles from Fernie, were on the point of giving up the struggle, recognizing that their town was doomed. Nothing has been heard from Hosmer since the announcement of a fresh outbreak, but it is believed the place is in the same terrible straits as its neighbor.

Refugees Number 6,000. Crowds of refugees are arriving at Nelson and other places which have escaped the disaster. These consist largely of women and children, the men having remained behind to fight the flames. They are all in a pitiable condition, most of them having brought nothing with them but the scanty raiment they wore at the time the onrush of the fire made it necessary to flee. It is estimated that fully 6,000 persons are wandering about the burned area, suffering from exposure to the keen mountain air and lack of food.

A telegram has been received from Editor Sampson of Cranbrook, which town is filled with refugees, stating that unless relief is sent quickly the place will be utterly unable to cope with the situation, as its food supplies will not last much longer in view of Body of a Man, Presumably Murdered, Railway Is Crippled.

To add to the horrors of the situaconnecting district with the outer world, is crippled. Many bridges have been burned and the movement of trains by which fire fighters, refugees and provisions are transported is attended with almost insurmountable difficulties. Consequently, the supplies of food and clothing which are being rushed to the stricken region from Vancouver, Nelson and other places are blocked in transit.

Vancouver wired $5,000 for relief Winnipeg has dispatched a special train with nurses, doctors, hospital | The only thing found in the clothing stores and provisions. How soon they will get through is problematical.

Building Carried Away. Such was the force of the flery torlong, was picked up, carried across several lots and dropped into the middle of the main street.

Five families were hemmed in by the fire and every soul perished. The West Fernie bridges across Elk river could not be saved. Several people lost their lives in trying to cross the burning structures. Numbers fled to the river and sought refuge by wading in the water; others ran to the Canadian Pacific tracks, where special trains were waiting to convey the people to Michel, but this trip could not be made because the bridge between Hosmer and Michel had been burned. In one part of the city an aged woman, an invalid, was carried a short distance, but the heat became so great and her relatives, wrapping her in wet trials at Boise. blankets, fled toward the hills. She was burned to death.

When the flames were consuming the town all the prisoners with the exception of five Black Hand suspects were released. Later they were recaptured and sent to Nelson.

Fernie Death Total 173. The dead at Fernie and camps in the neighborhood are declared to total 173, with a property loss of $8,000,000 for the locality. Loggers to the number of 80 in the camps of the Elk Lumber company have perished and several settlers with their families who lived on the line of railroad between Fernie and Michel have disappeared.

The great wave of fire is still rolling eastward through the forest, following the lines of the Canadian Pais but a mile wide, in others three miles. Nothing can stop it, apparently, till the rain falls, and that may be days or weeks. The estimated property loss so far is $10,000,000, but it is feared that this figure will be greatly swelled before the fire is extinguished.

Twelve Companies of Firemen Threatened with Death - Scores of Them Are Badly Injured.

Chicago.-Scores of firemen were burned and otherwise injured, more or less seriously, during the progress of a spectacular dock and grain elevator fire in the vicinity of Canal and West Sixteenth streets Monday afternoon.

The property destroyed includes the Chicago, Burlington & Quincy freight depot, elevator F and the Union elevator of the Armour company, part of elevator E, many freight sheds and cars and minor property. The loss is estimated at $2,000,000.

Twelve companies of firemen were threatened with death and were practically hemmed in between walls of fire at 3:30 p. m. after a wall of an elevator had fallen with a terrific crash. The men were working in a pit between the river and the burning elevator while a huge pile of sand ten feet high and several hundred feet long was on two sides of them.

When the wall of the huge elevator fell into the river brands were scattered in every direction and the fire attacked buildings on the east side of the water.

All railroad traffic in the union station was tied up on the Pennsylvania, Chicago, Burlington & Quincy and Chicago and Alton lines. Trains were inally run around the Chicago, Miland of the station.

Street-car service on most of the West side lines was tied up for hours on account of the number of engines that lined the streets near the blaze. DEATH LIST GROWS BIG CHICAGO FIRE RACE WAR IS FATAL

LY HURT AT GATES, PA.

ITALIANS VERSUS SLAVS

Riot Follows Pay Day and Long Carouse-One Man Shot Dead by Leader He Was Helping.

Uniontown, Pa.—One man dead and 25 others seriously injured, some of them fatally, are the results of a riot early Sunday between Italians and Slavs at Gates, one of the H. C. Frick Coke company plants, near Mason-

All the men are foreigners. There have been factional differences between the two races for , a long time. Saturday was pay day at the large plant and until after midnight a large quantity of intoxicants was consumed. Jacob Furance, leader of the Italian faction, went to the gate of a Slav boarding house and defied its 25 inmates. Immediately Furance and Alexander Molanski, leader of the Slavs, were engaged in a fight. Antillo Ronco, another Italian, went to the assistance of the former and this was the signal for a general fight. Revolvers began to crack and Ronco fell dead, struck, it is said, by a misdirected shot fired by Furance. The injuries of the 25 men consist of bullet wounds through the body, arms and legs. The most serious wounds were received by the Italians.

A squad of the Pennsylvania state constabulary was soon on the scene and 19 of the rioters were arrested and taken to Masontown. Members of waukee & St. Paul tracks at the north | both-factions then surrounded the jail, demanding that their companions be liberated. During the night the jail was guarded and Sunday the men were brought to Uniontown on a special street car.

BIG FIRE IN WINSTED, CONN.

State Armory and Several Other Buildings Are Destroyed.

Winsted, Conn.-The borough of Winstead was visited by a fire Sunday in which the state armory, containing the largest hall in northwestern Connecticut, the Odd Fellows' block and the Manchester building were destroyed, and fully a dozen other buildings caught fire and were badly damaged, the entire loss being placed at $80,000. During the course of the fire fully a dozen persons were taken from the upper stories of the Odd Fellows' block and the Manchester building, the fire cutting off their escape by the usual exits. No one was injured.

WAS TOO MUCH FOR PAPA.

Childish Questions Were Becoming Entirely Too Personal.

There is a member of the faculty of George Washington university, who, to use the words of a colleague, "is as rotund physically as he is profound metaphysically," says the Philadelphia Ledger.

One day the professor chanced to come upon his children, of which he has a number, all of whom were, to his astonishment, engaged in an earnest discussion of the meaning of the word "absolute."

"Dad," queried one of the youngsters, "can a man be absolutely good?" "No."

"Dad," put in another youngster, can a man be absolutely bad?"

"No." "Papa," ventured the third child, a girl, "can a man be absolutely fat?" Whereupon the father fled incontinently.

IT SEEMED INCURABLE

Body Raw with Eczema-Discharged from Hospitals as Hopeless-Cutlcura Remedies Cured Him.

"From the age of three months until fifteen years old, my son Owen's life was made intolerable by eczema in its worst form. In spite of treatments the disease gradually spread until nearly every part of his body was quite raw. He used to tear himself dreadfully in his sleep and the agony he went through is quite beyond words. The regimental doctor pronounced the case hopeless. We had him in hospitals four times and he was pronounced one of the worst cases ever admitted. From each he was discharged as incurable. We kept trying remedy after remedy, but had gotten almost past hoping for a cure. Six months ago, we purchased a set of Cuticura Remedies. The result was truly marvelous and to-day he is perfectly cured. Mrs. Lily Hedge, Camblewell Green, England, Jan. 12, 1907."

"You look worried, old man!" "Yes. Had three proposals last night and I don't know which one I ought to accept!"

Hall Caine's Early Life. Hall Caine is writing his life story. He tells how he first saw life by driving with his uncle at the age of five from the lonely homstead behind Snaefell to what he thought must be "a vast and mighty city." It was Douglas, with its 10,000 inhabitants. His first nickname was "Hommy-beg," the Manx for "little Tommy." His grandmother christened him thus. "I think I must have been much in her company," he says, "for I have the clearest memory of countless stories she told me of fairies and witches and the evil eye. My Manx grandmother was a poet."

Near Dead.

The ship doctor of an English liner notified the deathwatch steward, an Irishman, that a man had died in stateroom 45. The usual instructions to bury the body were given. Some hours later the doctor peeked into the room and found that the body was still there. He called the Irishman's attention to the matter, and the latter replied: "I thought you said room 26. I wint to that room and noticed wan of thim in a bunk. 'Are ye dead?' says I. 'No,' says he, 'but I'm pretty near dead.' So I buried him."-The Wasp.

WONDERED WHY Found the Answer Was "Coffee."

Many pale, sickly persons wonder for years why they have to suffer so, and eventually discover that the drug -caffeine-in coffee is the main cause of the trouble.

"I was always very fond of coffee and drank it every day. I never had much flesh and often wondered why I was always so pale, thin and weak.

"About five years ago my health completely broke down and I was confined to my bed. My stomach was in such condition that I could hardly take sufficient nourishment to sustain

"During this time I was drinking coffee, didn't think I could do with-

"After awhile I came to the conclusion that coffee was hurting me. and decided to give it up and try Postum. I didn't like the taste of it at first, but when it was made right -boiled until dark and rich-I soon became very fond of it.

"In one week I began to feel better. I could eat more and sleep better. My sick headaches were less frequent, and within five months I looked and felt like a new being, headache spells entirely gone.

"My health continued to improve and today I am well and strong, weigh 148 lbs. I attribute my present health to the life-giving qualities of Postum." "There's a Reason."
